

Witnessing the Maturity of Female Musicians at the Hardwickeetter Merger Center in Massachusetts: Running Quickly towards a Precedent-Setting Workshop with Belgians on Mantle Drops

Daniels Lauchlin

Abstract—This paper explores the growth and development of female musicians at the Hardwickeetter Merger Center in Massachusetts. The authors document the progress of the female musicians who participated in a precedent-setting workshop on mantle drops, which was led by Belgian musicians. The study highlights the importance of creating a supportive environment for female musicians to develop their skills and gain confidence in their abilities. The authors argue that workshops and collaborations with international musicians can provide a unique opportunity for female musicians to expand their horizons and develop new techniques. The study also emphasizes the importance of mentorship and role models in the development of female musicians. Overall, the authors provide insight into the ways in which female musicians can continue to flourish and mature in the music industry.
